Article title: Implications of COVID-19: The Effect of Working From Home on Financial and Mental Well-Being in the UK

Journal name: International Journal of Health Policy and Management (IJHPM)

Authors’ information: Eleftherios Giovanis¹*, Oznur Ozdamar²

¹Department of Public Finance, Nazilli Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Aydın Adnan Menderes University, Aydın, Turkey.

²Department of Economics, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Izmir University Bakircay, Izmir, Turkey.

(*corresponding author: egiovanis@adu.edu.tr)

Supplementary file 1

Figure S1. GHQ-12 Caseness by working always from home
Figure S2. Perception about the future financial situation by working from home on occasion

!Graph showing perception about future financial situation by working from home on occasion

- Y-axis: Average of Future Financial Situation
- X-axis: Period
- Legend:
  - Solid line with black circles: Not Work from Home
  - Dashed line with black diamonds: Work from Home

Figure S3. GHQ-12 Caseness by working from home on occasion

!Graph showing GHQ-12 Caseness by working from home on occasion

- Y-axis: Average of GHQ-12
- X-axis: Period
- Legend:
  - Solid line with black circles: Not Work from Home
  - Dashed line with black diamonds: Work from Home