I. INTRODUCTION
Pakem is a characteristic, a characteristic in a large Indonesian dictionary means that it is special or special in every region and not owned by other regions (http://kbbi.web.id/khas). Accessed August 5, 2019. Balinese bridal make up is a make up that includes makeup, hair styling, clothing and accessories in the form of metal accessories and fresh flowers. Balinese bridal makeup cannot be separated with the characteristics (grip) in each area in accordance with the legacy of previous ancestors. The Province of Bali is a region that is still thick with art and culture inherited from previous ancestors as well, with its make-up where each regency in Bali has its own characteristics, it can be seen in the makeup, fashion, hairstyle and accessories used where each - each part has its own meaning according to its shape. According to Lina Wiartini (2016) Karangasem Bridal Makeup in Bali Province said that Agung bridal make-up that looks very unique with its own characteristics. Agung Karangasem’s bridal makeup uses a bastard’s scarf made by weaving, using padded as her hairdo. In cosmetology this is identical to using clothing that is woven and using songket.
Furthermore according to Rizki Ari Safitri (2017) said that the bridal makeup of the Buleleng Style also has its own characteristics on the bridal make-up that can be seen from the clothing using a thin red curly chisel that is used on the shoulders of the bride in a triangle shape.

According to Dwi Pujiastuti (2016) The Study of Badung Style Bridal Make-Up and Clothing which explains that the Balinese-style makeup and attire of Badung style is a make-up that is thick with its grips since long ago. This makeup is used in ceremonies performed in the Badung area. Badung style bridal make up has a characteristic on her head decoration such as petitis, design, puspa leombo, golden cempaka flower, stamp flower, Kompyong.

Bridal make up is a procedure used for brides. Bridal make up must have the power to change the face to be more radiant and look special while maintaining a natural beauty that is personal with the aim of beautifying the face, making the face look more cheerful and awake and compensating for the state of a wedding. (riaspengantinke5.blogspot.com) visited on 27 January 2019. Where the makeup on Balinese brides is identical to using forehead decoration or what is called serinata. With this serinata makes Balinese brides will look more beautiful and elegant.

In the same area of Java, using forehead decoration, it's just a different name and shape, where in Yogya the forehead decoration is called paes. Furthermore according to (Khofifal, 2013) the solo bridal make-up also uses forehead decoration consisting of elephants, clasps, dropper and goddess. Then in the study (Clarina Novi Olgaaria, 2017) the traditional Javanese bridal funeral of Jember Sari Timut said that the forehead decoration uses paes consisting of ovate, ronsoto and godek.

Based on the explanation above, it states that in each district has characteristics, both in terms of motifs, colors and places of placement that can be realized in facial makeup, hairdo, clothing and accessories. Each regency in Bali has unique characteristics or traditions, one of which can be seen in the bridal make-up that has its own characteristics as well as in Jembrana Regency, which has its own characteristics in fashion, hairdo and accessories where the fashion used using a typical Jembrana weave that has a full and identical mastuli motif by using a black velvet dress that is used on brides and grooms. So with this problem the author will describe "The Great Bridal Makeup of Jembrana".
II. RESEARCH METHODS

According to Hidayat Syah (2010) defines that the descriptive research method is a research method used to find the broadest possible knowledge of the object of research at a particular time.

The object used in this study is the grand bridal makeup Jembrana. The research was conducted at LKP W & W Asri and LKP Sekar Taji. Data collection techniques using observation and interview techniques.

III. RESEARCH RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Research results

Based on the results of interviews with a number of informants stated that the makeup of the great bride of Jembrana has a characteristic on the hairdo using white menori flowers and the clothing used is typical Jembrana district.

The grand bridal make up of Jembrana uses standard or standard make-up on the forehead decoration called serinata. The shape of the forehead decoration used is curved beautifully as if adding to the beauty of the bride.

The shape of the eyebrows is curved beautifully with a blackish brown color and at the middle of the eyebrows is given a red dot or called a gecek.

Based on the results of interviews with a number of informants stated that the steps in putting on the bride's makeup as follows:

1. Clean the bride's face
2. Using a moisturizer that is kept until the neck
3. Next shading, powder and solid powder.
4. Next to form eyebrows. The eyebrows are made with beautiful curves with black-brown eyebrows, with the beginning of making brown eyebrow lines then colored with black.
5. Then apply eye decoration (eyeshadow) that is on the eyelids using a yellow color, on the chrouge using black and at the top using cream colored highlight.
6. Next apply the blush on the cheekbones.
7. Then make serinata in the following way: first make a point in the middle of the forehead hair growth line, parallel to the gecek or trumpet, from this point measure left and 2 finger widths. From the right point to the left point whose lines are curved and rounded inwards, from the point of the eyebrows, measure upwards as wide as the thumb is slightly pressed, then connect the point made above. by painting a slightly outward curved line, after the serinata is formed, then check again properly, symmetrical left and right seen, so that the shape is balanced.
8. Finally apply lipstick on the lips with a pink or red color.

The groom's makeup is only natural using powder, eyebrows, eyeliner, lip blush and blush.

Hairdo is the final stage of the hair styling process. Hair styling can characterize a person. Likewise the bridal hair styling in Bali between one and another is very different and has its own characteristics. According to (Mertami, 1993: 25) hair styling in Balinese bridal makeup is called "semi". Semi is the shape of the front which characterizes that of Balinese bridal makeup.

The hairstyle in the bridal makeup of the great Jembrana uses a bun, bun, horn which is placed on the back and semi using a semi-clawed shrimp. In the hairdo is divided into two parts, namely the front is made in the spring on the right and left, then at the back tied 7 fingers high from the line of the back of the head. Here are the steps to do the hairdo on the bridal makeup big Agung Jembrana:
