Abstract: The aim of this review is to investigate and identifying the possible source of virus in animals and identifying the vector media of the disease and the methods of its spread and working hard to search for a successful vaccine for immunization against infection, in addition to establishing specialized units to predict new versions of the virus in the years to come.

1. Introduction

While the countries of the world were busy with the concerns of their peoples daily, political and economic, and while news of wars dominated the news bulletins, a sudden news emerged that many did not notice at the beginning is the chinese authorities imprisoning a doctor named (Li) on charges of spreading false information and illegal behavior!!, which provoked astonishment and astonishment among the scientific circles!!, and forced him to sign a memorandum of silence after he pointed out the seriousness of the existence of new cases of non-causal pneumonia. This is contrary to the Chinese's tendency to remain discreet in everything related to their country's strict policy, and with the great pressure generated by the outbreak of medical conditions among the people and out of the ordinary, China was forced to inform the World Health Organization at the end of December 2019 to the existence of respiratory pathological dissolvers spreading rapidly in Wuhan city in Hubei Province, China, and to acknowledge that Dr. Li's allegations were not absurd and to release him and restore his mind. Finally, on January 7, a new version of the mutated Corona virus from SARS is the cause of these uncontrolled diseases [1].

2. Common and confusing questions

After the disease crossed the Chinese border, and spread to other countries, waves of panic and terror began to sweep across the globe and launch big questions with broad headlines about everything related to the virus (COVID-19, and why is it called the axis?, and is it new?, if it is old, why did the world ignore it?, and how does it spread?, all pressing and logical questions, some of which are confused experts and need time to get definitive answers that heal us [2].

3. Where did the virus come from and what are its factions?

The covid-19 virus has been identified through genetic sequencing in global laboratories and has turned out to be a new modified version of seven types of coronavirus, which first appeared in a market for viruses and animals in the Chinese city of Wuhan, and it is known that many strains of coronavirus have appeared in the past, including an old version of it in 2002 when it caused severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) which was transmitted from a
Another version of the virus appeared in 2012, causing the Middle East Respiratory Syndrome (MERS), which is believed to have spread from camels and goats to humans in the Arabian Gulf region [3]. It reveals that the corona virus chain is constantly evolving and is not new, and there was not much information about the new virus, but finally scientists at the University of Cambridge headed by Dr. Peter Forster and his team came to identify the species of the virus (Coved-19), where they drew the genetic history of the infection from December until last March. Three species of the new virus, called A, B, C, and analysis of strains showed that type A is the original virus that was transmitted to humans from bats by banjul, but it is not the most common type in China, the type that has spread in China mainly is type B, the strain C, is less dangerous than type B, and launched from Singapore to Europe, scientists believe that the coronavirus is a mutated virus from the new SARS virus that is constantly muted to overcome the virus. Resistance to the immune system [4].

4. Are there previous warnings from Virus Coved 19?
The World Health Organization (WHO) in 2017 referred to a warning about the presence of an unknown disease called disease (X) and said that it is a mysterious disease that will spread all over the world and kill millions and caused by a deadly virus!! also warned last year a committee headed by the former President of the World Health Organization, a stark report warning of the risk of a respiratory disease, similar to the influenza epidemic, It is inevitable that humanity will be hit like the flu, and may kill between 50 and 80 million people, as issued in the same year by the World Readiness Monitoring Council (GPMB), a team of health experts headed by Dr. Gro Harlem Brundtland, a strong warning to world leaders warning them: "There is a real threat to the world through the spread of a serious epidemic, warning that national health systems, especially in poor countries, will collapse under the weight of the disease. The report said the disease is fast-moving and has the potential to kill tens of millions of people, hit global economies and the collapse of financial markets, which actually happened only 12 months later, in December 2019, the new CORONA virus appeared in China!! [1].

However, the most exciting thing that was done in a press interview in an Arab periodical in 2013 in the issue of 1648, with a doctor named Dr. Ahmadi Khater, who was working at Abdul Latif Jameel Hospital in Jeddah, elaborated on the disease coming caused by virus Corona, stressing that the World Health Organization is aware of the virus before its development, after its experts came to Riyadh in June 2013 to examine respiratory conditions among residents of the Middle East and some countries in the Middle East and some countries. After the virus was isolated in laboratories, the team of experts was able to determine the cause of the disease at that time and was called the Coronavirus and the disease was called CoV-MERS [5].

Dr. Khater Avi noted in his interview with the magazine that there are other infections in countries around the world such as Qatar, Jordan, France and Britain, and the doctor pointed out clearly in the press investigation that the disease comes from animals, especially bats!! He explained his symptoms, which are difficult yphardand that it eliminates 30% of the infected!!, and revealed that the virus mutated from the group of corona virus, and even pointed out that the virus has no vaccine of its own and talked about the methods of prevention, which proved completely correct six years after the prophecy of the Arab doctor who did not find the same ears and found his warnings the same fate alerts the Chinese doctor lee in a strange and suspicious disregard by all and the first of the world health services!! [5].

5. Corona between medicine and politics!!

Here comes an important question: Could it have been possible to avoid all these enormous human and economic losses if China had not ignored the warnings of its doctors, who advised the authorities early on of the risk of delaying the announcement of outbreaks of disease among its citizens in Wuhan?, which has made China in the face of accusation. China's policy of obfuscation was manifested by the mute of its doctor (Li) and his imprisonment because of his announcement in the media of the emergence of cases similar to those that appeared before in SARS, and demanded the need for quarantine and isolation of cities, but China preferred to keep the news on complex political and economic considerations, as well as pointing fingers at the World Health Organization that it colluded with the Chinese authorities in keeping the subject secret in the hope of receding and ending without revealing it!! This has put China and the World Health Organization (WHO) in a position of defense in front of the nations of the world [6].

6. Recriminations!!

United States of America and Europe, began to accuse China of being the cause of the deadly disease, President Trump even named the Chinese virus instead of the covid 19 virus. The CIA even opened a secret investigation after china accused it of making the virus in its laboratories, and in return, China also threw the ball in the u.s. stadium, accusing it that the virus was an American industry produced in its laboratories and out of control !!, Russia and Iran entered the line of accusations and stood by China in accusing the Americans, And so the whole world became accused, and another fierce war broke out between the world's parties, affecting governments and international organizations. , all under one heading is the lack of seriousness in dealing with the disease and neglecting medical reports that warned of the disease [7].

7. Conclusions

The important conclusion that the world map changed a lot after the Corona pandemic, the warped virus revealed many of the most difficult, the first of which was the fragility of the global health system, which was not at the level of ambition and failed to contain it and could not avoid the spread of the epidemic, and revealed the weakness of health measures in developed countries have always boasted of their advanced health systems, and revealed the virus corona that the governments of the world did not take seriously warnings and reports that the danger of a disease coming will afflict millions of the world population, The world had to devote much more money to reviewing the fragile and old health systems that no longer fit the ever-changing viruses, and the calamity of Corona showed that a small virus has created a huge bang in people's lives, livelihoods, the economy of their countries and their way of life, and that the world has to rearrange its papers.
