Abstract: Hadith is a field of science that is less desirable, so the study of hadith and research on hadith in Indonesia, including in Madura, is far behind other fields of Islamic sciences. Whereas hadith is the mother of Islamic science and should be the main object of study. So far, various pesantren in Madura is more identical to Arabic, interpretation, and fiqh, so research on pesantren, including pesantren in Madura, is dominated by research on these three fields of study. This type of research is descriptive research with a hadith approach through library research and field research to describe the network of hadith scholars in Madura. This study shows that in general, the network of hadith scholars in Madura cannot be separated from the network of hadith scholars in Indonesia which originates from the network of Middle Eastern scholars, especially Mecca from the late 19th to 21st centuries, which was formed and spread through teacher-student relationships and friendships. They contributed to the development of hadith studies in Indonesia through the study of hadith books, sharing of records and ijazah sanad hadith, and writing and publishing work in the field of hadith.

Abstrak: Hadis merupakan bidang ilmu yang kurang diminati, sehingga kajian hadis dan penelitian tentang hadis di Nusantara, termasuk di Madura, kalah jauh dari bidang ilmu keislaman yang lain. Padahal hadis merupakan induk ilmu keislaman yang seharusnya menjadi objek kajian utama. Selama ini, pelbagai pesantren di Madura lebih identik dengan bahasa Arab, tafsir, dan fikih, sehingga penelitian tentang pesantren, termasuk pesantren di Madura didominasi oleh penelitian tentang tiga bidang studi tersebut. Jenis penelitian ini adalah penelitian deskriptif dengan pendekatan hadis melalui studi pustaka (library research) dan studi lapangan (field research) untuk mendeskripsikan jaringan ulama hadis di Madura. Penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa secara umum, jaringan ulama hadis di Madura tidak bisa dilepaskan dari jaringan ulama hadis di Nusantara yang bermuara dari jaringan ulama Timur Tengah terutama Makkah sejak akhir abad 19 hingga 21 M., yang terbentuk dan tersebar melalui hubungan guru-murid dan pertemuan. Mereka berkontribusi terhadap perkembangan kajian hadis di Nusantara melalui pengajian kitab hadis, pembagian catatan dan ijazah sanad hadis, dan penulisan dan penerbitan karya di bidang hadis.

INTRODUCTION

In Islamic studies, hadith is the most important field of study compared to other fields of study, such as interpretation, jurisprudence, fiqh, and history, because all these main fields of study were initially rooted and based on hadith but later separated themselves from it as an independent field of study, especially during the codification period in the III-IV centuries H. In Indonesia, hadith studies have begun since the 17th century AD. But the study of this hadith has long been dim and has only been seriously developed over the past few years. Whereas other fields of study have survived, and even developed significantly with a variety of approaches and innovations.

In the field of hadith, some of the great scholars of international hadith come from Indonesia, such as Muhammad ibn 'Umar Nawawi al-Bantani (d. 1896 AD.), Muhammad Mahfudz al-Turnusi (d. 1919 AD.), and Muhammad Yasin ibn Muhammad ‘Isa al-Fadani (1915-1990 M.). In addition to them, other

Some researchers have previously researched the network of hadith scholars in the archipelago in general and some have researched it in certain areas of the archipelago, but there has not been a single study that specifically examines the network of hadith scholars in Madura. Muhajirin in The Genealogy of The Hadith Scholars of the Archipelago\footnote{Muhajirin, “Genealogi Ulama Hadis Nusantara”, Jurnal Holistic Al-Hadis, vol. 2, no. 1 (Juni, 2016)} only photographs the origins of hadith scholars in the archipelago in general sorted by lifetime and Work. network of hadith scholars in Banjar, Kalimantan, starting from the Middle East as an intellectual destination for Banjar scholars and three generations of hadith scholars in Banjar.

Based on sanad theory, this article discusses descriptively-analytically three issues, namely: first, how the network of hadith scholars in Madura; second, how is the formation, dissemination, and figures in the network of hadith scholars in Madura; and third, how the hadith scholar network in Madura contributes to the development of hadith studies in the archipelago. Sanad theory is used to trace and describe the formation, dissemination, and figures in the network of hadith scholars in Madura and their contribution to the development of hadith studies in the archipelago.

Sanad is a genealogy or link in the hadith passage that shows the relationship between the teacher-student of the periwayat and the history of the hadith. Something that is dikleim as a hadith will be rejected if it is not accompanied by sanad. The process of narrating hadith from the beginning to the end of the III century H as the end of the hadith passage period involved five generations (thabaqah) of hadith periwayat, namely: friends, tabiin, atba' al-tabi'in, atba' al-tabi'in, atba' atba' al-tabi'in. However, the tradition of using sanad in hadith narration did not stop at the end of the III century H. as the end of the hadith passage period, but it still lasts to this day. In addition to sanad, the terms mu'jam al-syuyukh, masyaikhah, tsabat, fihris, barnamaj, taqyid, awa'il, ijazat, marwiyat, and sama'at which also describe the guru-murid relationship in the hadith passage. This type of research is descriptive research with a hadith approach through library research and field research to the network of hadith in Madura.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Hadith Scholars Network in Madura

In general, the network of hadith scholars in Madura cannot be separated from the network ulama hadith in the archipelago, which is from the old network of the Middle East, especially Makkah since the last 19th century to 21 AD. According to Muhammad Mahfudz ibn 'Abd Allah ibn 'Abd al-Mannan al-Tarmasi (1868-1920), Al-Tarmasi is a key figure in the network of ulama hadith in the archipelago previously there was Nur al-Din al-Raniri and 'Abd al-Ra'uf al-Sinkili who were involved in the study of hadith.

Sanad hadith al-Tarmasi was then connected to sanad hadith al-Fadani through the disciples of al-Tarmasi who were al-Fadani's teachers, namely: Habib Allah al-Syinqithi, 'Umar ibn Hamdan al-Mahrasi, Ahmad al-Muhallalati al-Syami al-Makki, Muhammad al-Baqir ibn Nur Yogyakarta, Ma'shum ibn Ahmad Lasem, Shiddiq ibn 'Abd Allah Lasem-Jember, 'Abd al-Wahhab ibn Hasb Allah Jombang, 'Umar ibn Abu Bakr Bajunaid al-Makki, 'Ali ibn 'Abd Allah Banjar al-Makki, Muhammad 'Abd al-Baqi al-Ayyubi al-Laknawi al-Madani, and 'Abd al-Qadir ibn Shabir Mandailing al-Makki.

In later generations, the sanad hadith of the Nusantara hadith scholars, including the sanad hadith of madurese hadith scholars, was connected to the sanad hadith of Middle Eastern scholars through the sanad hadith of Muhammad Hasyim Asy'ari, al-Fadani, Isma'il Uthman Zain al-Yamani, 'Abd Allah ibn Sa'id al-Lahji, Muhammad ibn 'Alawi al-Maliki, and al-Sayyid Hamid ibn 'Alawi al-Kaf.

18 Among the hadith scholars in the archipelago who were in contact with al-Tarmasi was Muhammad Kasyful Anwar (1884-1939) in Banjar. Like al-Tarmasi, he also studied in Mecca and referred to al-Sayyid Abu Bakr ibn Muhammad Shatha al-Makki. Saifudin, Peta Kajian Hadis, 120-121.

al-Banjari al-Makki. Among the Madurese scholars who have sanad hadiths that they mention in their work are Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah, Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah, and Thoifur Ali Wafa. Most of the sanad hadith of these three Madurese scholars was obtained when they studied with many scholars in Makkah. In addition to these three scholars, other Madurese scholars who were of the same rank and as were educated at the time they studied with many scholars in Makkah, especially Isma'il Uthman Zain al-Yamani, were assumed to also have sanad hadith, although they did not write works in the field of hadith and did not mention their sanad hadith.

Formation and Dissemination of Jaringan Ulama Hadith in Madura

The network of hadith scholars in Madura was formed and spread through teacher-student relationships and friends, especially when they studied in Makkah and owned an islamic boarding school after returning from Makkah. These two points can be proven by sanad hadith, works in the field of hadith, and their hadith studies. The formation and dissemination of a network of hadith scholars in Madura can be grouped into three as follows: Pertama, scholars who have sanad directly from their teachers in Makkah, such as Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah, Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah, and Thoifur Ali Wafa. Second, scholars who pursue hadith through teachers from their teachers who have studied in Makkah, such as Abdul Majid Tamim (Pamekasan), Thofur Ali Wafa, and Abdul Ghofur Syamsul Bahri (Sampang). Third, scholars who have worked in the field of hadith and taught them to their students without being sure whether they belong to the first group or the second group, such as Muhammad Syamsul Arifin (Banyuanyar, Pamekasan) and Baghdad al-Maliki (Kedungdung, Sampang).

The following institutions and networks of hadith scholars in Madura, include:

Abdul Majid Tamim

Raden Abdul Majid Tamim was born on June 22, 1919 in Pamekasan and died on December 8, 2000 in Jember. He was the son of a noble married couple, namely K.H.R. Moh Tamim and R. Ayu Maimunah. His nasab lineage shows that he was the 15th descendant of Sunan Giri from the path of his father, namely Raden Abdul Majid Tamim ibn K.H.R. Moh. Tamim ibn K.H.R. Abdul Latif ibn K.H.R. Isma'il ibn K.H.R. Ibrahim ibn K.R. Anwar Ya'kub ibn Kyai Raden Aziruddin ibn Kyai Raden Sukandar ibn K.H.R. Abdul Adzim ibn K.H.R. Tepi Salasi ibn R. Adipati Pratamanggala II ibn R. Adipati Pratamanggala I ibn R.K.H. Zainal Abidin (Sunan Cendana) ibn Pangeran Wiryadi ibn Pangeran Kulon 1 ibn Raden Paku Prabu Satmata (Sunan Giri). 21

Although it is only recorded that he has studied KH directly. M. Hasyim Asy'ari at Pondok Pesantren Tebuireng, Jombang, around 1930 to 1940 AD, but Tamim is a prolific writer who has successfully written and translated many books across scientific fields in Islam, namely tafsir, hadith, fiqh, and kalam science. Among his works are the following: (1) Tarjamah Tafsir al-Jalalain bi al-Lugah al-Maduriyah, (2) Tafsir Alam Nasyrah al-Karim, (3) Tafsir Surah al-Ikhlas, (4) Al-Mar'ah al-Shalihah, (5) Treatise al-Mahidh Madura, (6) Lubab al-Hadith, (7) Mi'ah Hadith Sharifah Mutarjamah bi al-Lughah al-Maduriyah, (8) Al-Ahadits al-Nabawiyyah, (9) Tarjamah Durus al-'Aqaid al-Diniyah, (10) Al-Jawahir al-Kalamiyah fi 'Idhah 'Aqidah al-Islamiyah, (11) Matan al-Jauharah fi 'Ilm al-Tauhid, (12) Fath al-Qarib 'ala Matt al-Ghayah wa at-Taqrīb, (13) Al-Mabadi' al-Fiqhiyyah 'ala Madzhab al-Imam al-Sya'fi'i, (14) Safinah al-Naja Madura fi Ushul ad-Din wa al-Fiqh, dan (15) Sullam al-Taufiq Madura.

From many abdul Majid Tamim's works above, his works that are specified in the field of hadith are Lubab al-Hadith, Al-Ahadits al-Nabawiyyah, and Mi'ah Hadith Sharifah Mutarjamah bi al-Lughah al-Maduriyah. As the title implies, Mi'ah Hadith Syarifah Mutarjamah bi al-Lughah al-Maduriyah is a book containing one hundred hadiths translated into Madurese. This book is a thin hadith book consisting of only 16 pages. The book was printed by Maktabah Al-Shaikh Salim ibn Sa’d Nabhan. The collection of hadiths in it is only a short matan of hadiths without sanad, both the generation of companions as the first periwayat and mukharrij as the last periwayat who wrote it in his hadith book. The hadith material is related to science, love for the poor and the poor, unity, division, morals, love for fellow human beings, disgrace, shame, anger, hasud, shirk, apostate, neighborly ethics, silaturahim, hypocrisy, faith, birr al-walidain, piety, honesty, zakat, almsgiving, khamar, kindness, adultery, men, promises, bakhil, talak, salat, prayer, prayer, sheep fighting, pride, heresy, joy, gratitude, deceit, folly, merchant, illegitimate food, help, compassion, advice, surge, hell, conjecture, and obedience.

This book contains 40 hadiths without a complete sanad, that is, it only mentions the perawi of the generation of friends and mukharrij hadith, which was later translated into Madurese with the Arabic script pegon. The systematics of writing the Arba’una Hadith is as follows: Muhammad Shamsul Arifin gives a brief preface to the usefulness of the content of this book, mentions the hadith one by one and its translation in Madurese with the Arabic script pegon from the first hadith to the fortieth hadith, and gives an afterword. The hadith material in arba’una Hadith is as follows:

The ithaf al-Talib manuscript consists of two books, namely: (a) Ahmad Barizi's Ithaf al-Talib which was completed on Thursday, 20 Ramadan 1433 H; and (b) 30al-Shaikh Hasan ibn Muhammad al-Masysyath al-'Alim al-Faqih wa Rajul al-Din al-Mu'tha' by Muhammad Abu Bakr Basalamah, one of the disciples of Hasan ibn Muhammad al-Masysyath, published in the newspaper al-Bilad, page 10, edition 7486, Saturday, 8 Safar 1404 H-12 November 1983 AD. Ithaf al-Talib is not a book in the field of hadith specifically, but Ahmad Barizi tells the story of his scholarly relationship with al-Masysyath as his teacher and the teacher of his teachers in this book, including the sanad diplomas of his teacher's works. Ahmad Barizi has a link in the chain of narration connected to all the works of the hadith of al-Masysyath through the general diplomas of his teachers who are disciples of al-Masysyath, namely Raf' al-Astar 'ala Thal'ah al-Anwar fi 'Ilm Mushthalah al-Hadith, al-Taqrirat al-Saniyah 'ala al-Mandzumah al-Baiquniyah fi 'Ilm Mushthalah al-Hadith, and al-Irshad bi Dzikr Ba'dh ma li min al-Ijazah wa al-Isnad.

Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah

Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah is the caretaker of Al-Mubarak Islamic Boarding School, Lan-Bulan, Batorasang, Tanelengan, Sampang, Madura. He was the younger brother of Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah. The nasab side of his father's path was Ahmad Ghazali ibn Muhammad ibn Fathullah ibn Sa'idan to Sunan Cendana which continued until the Prophet Muhammad saw.\(^{31}\) He was born in Lan-Bulan, Batorasang, Tanelengan, Sampang, Madura.

Ahmad Ghazali only studied formally until the 3rd grade of elementary school. Nevertheless, he studied with his father, KH. Muhammad Fathullah and his two older brothers, KH. Kurdish Muhammad and KH. Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah. He also studied with KH. Maimun Zubair Sarang Rembang, KH. Hasan Iraqi Sampang. He then studied at al-Shaulatiyah in Makkah. In addition to al-Shaulatiyah, he also studied with Isma'il 'Uthman Zain al-Yamani, 'Abd Allah ibn Sa'id al-Lahji, Muhammad Yasin ibn 'Isa al-Fadani, and Mukhtar al-Din al-Falimbani about 9 years in Makkah. He also studied with KH. Nasir Syuja'i Prajjan Sampang, KH. Kamil Hayyan, KH. Hasan Basri Said, KH. Zubair Abdul Karim, KH. Zubair Bungah Gresik, Yahya Gresik, Musthafa Gresik, Muhyiddin Khazin Yogyakarta, Noor Ahmad Jepara, and Syaukat Odeh Jordan.\(^{32}\)

Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah has many works in various Islamic scientific disciplines, such as hadith, tajwid, history, faraid, akhlak, fiqh, falak, sufism, and prayer, which in total is more than 30 works. Of all his works, there are two works specifically in the field of hadith, namely: Bahr al-Madad fi Ba'idh Musalsalat Shaikhina Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Al-Qaul al-Mukhtashar fi 'Ilm

Mushthalah Ahl al-Atsar, and Syuruq al-Anwar al-Shamadiyah Shah Mukhtar al-Ahadits wa al-Hikam al-Muhammadiyah.

Bahr al-Madad is a book written by Ahmad Ghazali specifically to collect some of the sanad hadith musalsal owned and read by Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah, his older brother and teacher. Ahmad Ghazali's desire to write this book arose after he heard Ahmad Barizi's call to compile the musalsal hadiths that he conveyed to the students and enthusiasts of hadith science on the feast day, 'Ashura', and other occasions. This happened when Ahmad Barizi read the hadith al-musalsal bi yaum al-'id on Eid al-Adha in 1436 A.D. in front of his students, including ahmad Ghazali.33 The systematics of writing Bahr al-Madad consists of a preface, a biography of Ahmad Barizi (name, nasab, birth, scientific career development, perseverance in learning, personality, return to the homeland, teacher, student, 75 works that have been printed, and 7 works that are still in the process of being completed), musalsal hadith (definition, sort, example, faidah, and law), and 21 musalsal hadiths owned and read by Ahmad Barizi.

According to its name, al-Qaul al-Mukhtashar is a book in the field of hadith written by Ahmad Ghazali in a nutshell which is reserved for new students.34 The number of pages of this book is 33 pages completed on Friday, 18 Shawal 1424 H̸12 December 2003. Although the prints of these two books were published in 1430 H̸2009 AD in the white paper, the writing style follows the yellow book writing style typical of traditional pesantren, namely without mention of references in the form of footnotes. His footnotes are just further explanations of certain points in the main text. Ahmad Ghazali only clearly mentions the six names of scholars whose opinions are his reference in this book, namely al-Shafi‘i, al-Baihaqi, Ibn ‘Abd al-Bar, al-Khalili, and al-Nasa‘i each of which is only mentioned once except al-Daruquthni who is mentioned twice. This seems to be because of the purpose of the pronunciation of al-Qaul al-Mukhtashar as a summary book, as Ahmad Ghazali implied expression in this book and the title. Al-Qaul al-Mukhtashar contains meanings, terms, rules, laws, and examples that are generally basic and commonly found in the books of musthahal al-hadith, both classical and modern-contemporary.

Syuruq al-Anwar al-Shamadiyah was the shah of Ahmad ibn Ibrahim al-Hasyimi's Mukhtar al-Ahadits wa al-Hikam al-Muhammadiyah (1878-1943 AD), a disciple of Muhammad 'Abduh and director of three private schools in Cairo Egypt.\(^{35}\) Mukhtar al-Ahadits wa al-Hikam al-Muhammadiyah contains 15800 selected hadiths including from Shahih al-Bukhari, Shahih Muslim, Sunan al-Tirmidzi, Sunan al-Nasa'i, Sunan Ibn Majah, Sunan Abu Dawud, al-Muwaththa', al-Jami' al-Shaghir, al-Jami' al-Kabir, and al-Targhib wa al-Tarhib. According to Zainuddin, an alumnus of Pondok Pesantren Al-Mubarok Lan-Bulan Sampang, the draft of Syuruq al-Anwar al-Shamadiyah has been completed in four volumes, but only the first volume and the second volume are on the market. When this study was conducted, the researcher only got the print of the second volume, since the first volume was not reprinted after it was sold out. Currently, Ahmad Ghazali is reviewing the first volume in front of the students at once for the benefit of tashhih before he is reprinted.\(^{36}\) The second volume contains the 502 hadith syarhs in Mukhtar al-Ahadits wa al-Hikam al-Muhammadiyah, i.e. from the 436th hadith to the 938th hadith 346 pages thick accompanied by four indices, namely the verse index, hadith index, figure index, and theme index.\(^{37}\)

Muthmainnah. His nasab lineage from his father's path is Thoifur ibn Ali Wafa ibn Muharrar. He was the 7th descendant of 'Abd al-Quddus because there were five people between his father and 'Abd al-Quddus. 'Abd al-Quddus was one of the figures in the 10th century A.D. who came from Hadramaut and then hijra and settled in Sumenep Madura more than four centuries ago. Meanwhile, his nasab lineage from his mother's path is Thoifur ibn Muthmainnah binti Dzilhija who came from Waru, Pamekasan, Madura, and is said to be a descendant of Prince Katandur Sumenep.38

Thoifur studied with many scholars, both in Indonesia and in the Middle East, especially in Makkah. Among his teachers were: (1) Ali Wafa Muharrar, (2) Ali Hisyam, (3) Ahmad Zaini Miftahul Arifin, (4) Abdullah Zahrawi, (5) Jamaluddin Muhammad Fadhil, (6) 'Abd Allah ibn Ahmad Dardum, (7) 'Abd Allah ibn Sa'id 'Ibadi al-Lahji al-Hadhrami al-Shihari, (8) Muhammad Yasin ibn 'Isa al-Fadani al-Makki, (9) Muhammad Mukhtar al-Din al-Falimbani al-Makki, (10) Aisyah, (11) Isma'il 'Uthman Zain, (12) Al-Sayyid Muhammad ibn 'Abd Allah al-Madini Sha'im al-Dahr, (13) Qasim ibn 'Ali al-Maqrani al-Yamani, (14) Abu Yunus Shalih al-Arkan al-Rabighi, (15) Al-Sayyid Muhammad ibn 'Alwi al-Maliki al-Hasani al-Makki, and (16) Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah. Of all his teachers, there are several of his teachers who pursue, have sanad, and work in the field of hadith, namely: Jamaluddin Muhammad Fadhil, 'Abd Allah ibn Sa'id 'Ibadi al-Lahji al-Hadhrami al-Shihari, Muhammad Yasin ibn 'Isa al-Fadani al-Makki, Muhammad Mukhtar al-Din al-Falimbani al-Makki, Al-Sayyid Muhammad ibn 'Alwi al-Maliki al-Hasani al-Makki, and (16) Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah. Thoifur obtained the sanad hadith of Shahih al-Bukhari and Shahih Muslim through a general diploma from Jamaluddin ibn Muhammad Fadhil, Patokan, Kedir, after following the recitation of the khataman of the two books in the month. He also obtained the sanad hadith of Shahih Muslim through Sayyid Muhammad ibn 'Alawi al-Makki and Isma'il Utsman Zain al-Yamani al-

Thoifur Ali Wafa has many works in various Islamic scientific disciplines, such as tafsir, hadith, history, faraid, Arabic language and literature, kalam science, fiqh, and Sufism,\textsuperscript{40} which in total is 48 works. Of all his works, there are four of his works in the field of hadith, namely: \textit{Al-Dzahab al-Sabik fi al-Kalam 'ala Hadith Anta wa Maluka li Abika, Daf' al-Iham wa al-Haba fi al-Kalam 'ala Hadith Kull Qardh Jarra Manfa'ah fa huwa Riba, Fath al-Lathif fi 'Ilm Musthalah al-Hadith al-Sharif,} and \textit{Al-'Alam al-Munif Syarh Fath al-Lathif fi 'Ilm Musthalah al-Hadith al-Sharif.} Fath al-Lathif fi 'Ilm Musthalah al-Hadith al-Sharif is Thoifur's work in the form of a nadzm on the basics of hadith science in 65 stanzas, which was completed on Friday the 20th of Shawal 1425 H. Thoifur deliberately composed Fath al-Lathif in the form of a nadzm to be easily memorized by novice learners and to be a reminder to the educated, as Thoifur revealed it in the seventh stanza in Fath al-Lathif, i.e. "nadamtuha musahhilan li hifdziha # li al-mubtadi mudzakkiran uli al-nuha."\textsuperscript{41} Al-'Alam al-Munif is the shah of Fath al-Lathif fi 'Ilm Musthalah al-Hadith al-Sharif. In other expressions, Thoifur wrote al-'Alam al-Munif to explain Fath al-Lathif which was his work in the field of hadith science. Thoifur completed the writing of al-'Alam al-Munif on 26/7/1426 H-30/8/2005 AD with a total of 393 pages plus 8 pages for the table of contents. In the printed edition of al-'Alam al-Munif, the entire nazdm in Fath al-Lathif is placed separately at the beginning of al-'Alam al-Munif. Baghdad al-Maliki

Baghdad al-Maliki is the founder of Nurul Hidayah Islamic Boarding School, Rahayu Village, Kedungdung District, Sampang Regency, Madura. Like Abdul Majid Tamim, he was also the translator of various Arabic books into Madurese published by two legendary publishers of the yellow book, namely Maktabah Nabhan and Maktabah Al-Hidayah Surabaya. The books in Arabic that have been translated by Baghdad al-Maliki that are traced are as follows: (1) Fath al-Mu'in, Syarh Qurrah al-'Ain bi Muhimmat al-Din, (2) Washiyah al-Musthafa li al-Imam 'Ali Karrama Allah Wajhah, (3) Ta'lim al-Muta'lim li Thariq al-Ta'allum, (4) Safinah al-Naja, (5) Al-‘Awamil, (6) Al-Jawahir al-Kalamiyah, (7) Matn al-Zubad, (8) Hidayah al-Shibyan, (9) Adab al-Mar'ah, (10) Tuhfah al-Wildan, (11) Al-Muqaddimah al-Hadramiyah, (12) Al-Silah fi Bayan al-Nikah, and 42Lubab al-Hadith.

Of the works of Baghdad al-Maliki, Lubab al-Hadith is his work specifically in the field of hadith. Lubab al-Hadith is a book of hadith by Jalal al-Din al-Suyuthi. The purpose of al-Suyuthi writing Lubab al-Hadith was to collect the hadith of the Prophet with sanad sahih. Lubab al-Hadith consists of 40 chapters. In each chapter, there are 10 hadiths that are only matan without sanad, so the total number is 400 matan hadiths about certain virtues.43 Baghdad al-Maliki translates Lubab al-Hadith into Madurese literally, which is tarjamah the word word in the form of the meaning of gandul with the Arabic-Madurese script pegon. In addition to translating, Baghdad al-Maliki also added prefaces and afterwords with Arabic and the Arabic-Madurese script pegon.

Abdul Ghafur Syamsul Bahri is a Sampangite. He is an alumnus of Pondok Pesantren Al-Mubarok, Lan-Bulan, Batorasang, Tambelangan, Sampang. He is a loyal student of KH. Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah, caretaker of Al-Mubarok Islamic Boarding School, Lan-Bulan, Batorasang, Tambelangan, Sampang. He wrote four works, namely: (1) Kasyf al-Niqab fi Syarh al-Nadzm al-Musamma bi Manhaj al-Thullab fi Fadhl al-'Ilm wa Ahlihi wa fi al-Adab by 'Uthman ibn Sa'id Tunkal, (2) Irshad al-Thalibin ila Syarh al-Ahadits al-Arba' in by 'Abd Allah ibn Sa'id al-Lahji, (3) Bughyah al-Murid fi Syarh Nadzm Jauharah al-Tauhid by Ibrahim al-Laqqani, and (4) Faidh al-Mannan fi Ba'dh ma Yahillu wa ma Yahrumu min al-Hayawan of his four works, Irshad al-Thalibin ila Syarh al-Ahadits al-Arba' in is his work specifically in the field of hadith. Irshad al-Thalibin is the book of syarh over al-Ahadits al-Arba' in by 'Abd Allah ibn Sa'id al-Lahji al-Hadhrami al-Shihari. The number of pages of Irshad al-Thalibin is 278 pages. As Abdul Ghafur's teacher, Ahmad Barizi gave a foreword (taqridh) to Irshad al-Thalibin on Sunday, 12 Zulhijah 1430 H. Al-Lahji's Al-Ahadits al-Arba' in contains 40 short hadiths without complete sanad, i.e. al-Lahji only mentions the name of the companion as the first devotee, matan hadith, and his mukharrij.

Abdul Ghafur's syarh method of al-Ahadits al-Arba' in by al-Lahji in Irshad al-Thalibin is as follows: (1) mentions the original text of al-Ahadits al-Arba' in; (2) explaining the biography of the companions as the first periwayat, i.e. if their biography is already described in the previous hadith syarh, then he does not explain it again; (3) explaining the meaning of language and the terms and functions of a particular vocabulary in the hadith, (4) sometimes explaining the way of reading and the grammatical function of a particular vocabulary in the hadith; (5) explain the content of the hadith descriptively-analytically, that is, in the form of words, phrases, or sentences in the hadith; (6) sometimes explains the quality of the hadith, and (7) explains the biography of the mukharrij as the last periwayat, that is, if their biography has been described in the previous hadith syarh, then he does not explain it again. In Irshad al-Thalibin, Abdul Ghafur referred to verses of the Qur'an, other hadiths, as well as the opinions of scholars and used his personal opinions to explain al-Lahji’s al-Ahadits al-Arba’in.

Contribution of the Hadith Ulema Network in Madura in the Development of Hadith Studies in the Archipelago

Based on the teacher-student relationship between Muhammad Mahfudz al-Tarmasi, some of Muhammad Yasin ibn Muhammad 'Isa al-Fadani’s teachers who were disciples of al-Tarmasi such as Habib Allah al-Syiqitthi and 'Umar ibn Hamdan al-Mahrasi, al-Fadani,48 and al-Fadani’s disciples such as Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah, Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah, and Thoifur Ali Wafa as seen in the previous discussion, hence the coronation of al-Tarmasi as an important figure behind the establishment of a network of hadith scholars in the archipelago.49

Actually, KH. Muihammad Khalil, Bangkalan, Madura, a colleague of al-Tarmasi in Makkah, is an important figure in Madura, but his widely circulated work to date is only in the fields of grammar, jurisprudence, and prayer, such as al-Silah fi Bayan al-Nikah, Isti’dad al-Maut fi al-Hasits ‘ala Dzikr al-Maut wa Fiqh al-Janazah, Taqrirat Shaikhina Khalil ‘ala Mandzumah Nuzhah al-Thullab fi Qawa’id al-I’rab, Kitab al-Bina’ dhimna Tadrib wa Mumarasah fi ‘Ilm al-Tashrif, Taqrirat Shaikhina Khalil ‘ala Matn al-‘Izzi fi ‘Ilm al-Sharf, and Ratib Shaikhina Khalil. Meanwhile, his echoes in the field of hadith have not been revealed. In fact, according to Ahmad Ginanjar Sya’ban, Khalil has sanads and works in the field of hadith which are still manuscripts on the subject of hadith handed down to Habib Salim ibn Jindan.50

In the next generation of scholars in Madura, the study of hadith in Madura still lags behind the study of other Islamic scientific disciplines. Not only in Madura, the lag in hadith studies from other Islamic scientific studies, such as fiqh, Sufism, and interpretation also occurs in various regions in Indonesia. Madurese scholars who have sanad hadith, work in the field of hadith, and study hadith in their pesantren is only a little bit. Even some Madurese scholars who have sanad hadith, works in the field of hadith, and study hadith in their pesantren are more accurately categorized as fiqh scholars because their work and studies in the field of jurisprudence are far more than their works and studies in the field of hadith. This is evident from the description of the biographies, teachers, students, and the work of seven Madurese scholars who have worked in the field of hadith. Only three of the seven Madurese scholars clearly show that they have sanad hadith and study hadith, namely Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah, Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah, and Thoifur Ali Wafa.

The above description does not mean that scholars in Madura did not contribute to the development of hadith studies in the archipelago, because some of them had sanad, produced works in the field of hadith, and taught hadith to their students, such as Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah, Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah, and Thoifur Ali Wafa. In general, they share notes and worship their sanad hadith after memorizing a book of hadith to their students, writing and publishing their work in the field of hadith independently on a limited scale, and teaching hadith, both with hadith books by classical scholars and their work, to their students and the wider community in the form of recitations in Islamic boarding schools which are sometimes broadcast through social media such as Youtube.

Ahmad Barizi Muhammad Fathullah composed several works in the field of hadith, especially about the musalsal hadith that was read and presented to his students at certain moments, some of which are certain books, especially the book of fiqh, teaching Shahih al-Bukhari to his students, gave a preface to Irshad al-Thalibin ila Syarh al-Ahadits al-Arba’in by Abdul Ghafur Shamsul Bahri who was his faithful student. Ahmad Ghazali Muhammad Fathullah composed several works in the field of hadith in the form of books basic hadith science and syarh of the book of hadith read to his students, teaching Sunan al-Tirmidzi to his students. Thoifur Ali Wafa composed several works in the field of hadith in the form of books of hadith and shari’a about certain hadiths, taught Sunan al-Tirmidzi, al-Jami' al-Shaghir, Bulugh al-Maram, Riyadh al-Shalihin to his students, alumni of his Islamic boarding school, and the wider community which is more often broadcast live from his Islamic boarding school or the home of one of the alumni through the Mutiara Assadad Youtube channel, and preached his sanad hadith to his students after preaching a book of hadith such as sanadnya to the Muslim Shahih through Sayyid Muhammad ibn ‘Alawi al-Makki and Isma'il Uthman Zain al-Yamani al-Makki.

CONCLUSION

In general, the network of hadith scholars in Madura cannot be separated from the network of hadith scholars in the archipelago which boiled down to the network of Middle Eastern scholars, especially Makkah from the end of the 19th to 21st century AD. The network of hadith scholars in Madura was formed and spread through teacher-student and friend relationships, especially when they were studying in Makkah and when they took care of Islamic boarding schools after returning from Makkah. In general, the contribution of the network of hadith scholars in Madura to the development of hadith studies in the archipelago is in the form of recitation of hadith books, the distribution of notes and diplomas of sanad hadith after memorizing a hadith book to their students, writing and publishing their works in the field of hadith independently, and recitation of hadith with hadith books by classical scholars and their works, to their students.
