Acknowledgments

The editors of this special issue thank the many individuals who contributed to its successful production. We greatly appreciated the dedicated and outstanding support of Allison Rose, who maintained us on a steady schedule. We thank Cathy Backinger (Food and Drug Administration) and Michelle Bloch (National Cancer Institute), for their commitment and support of this special issue, and Ami Bahde, for administrative support at NCI.

We thank the Legacy Foundation and the National Cancer Institute, for their support of TRenD. We thank the TRenD members who completed internal peer reviews of the manuscripts: Allison Rose, John Taurus, Dennis Trinidad, Catherine Cubbin, Linda Alexander, Lourdes Baezconde-Garbanati, Jean Forster, Deirdre Lawrence, Deborah McLellan, and Anita Fernander. We also thank the external peer reviewers who completed reviews of papers in a timely way: Celia Kaplan, Steven Gregorich, Paula Cupertino, Vickie Shavers, Yan Leykin, Brian Primack, Pamela Ling, Elisa Tong, Michael Ong, Stanton Glantz, Gary Giovino, Arnab Mukherjea, Tung Nguyen, Raul Mejia, Leland Ackerson, Daniel Rommer, Jonathan Samet, Gary King, Alice Mills, Dezheng Huo, Vendhan Ga-jalakshmi, Shiraz Mishra, Rijo M John, Quan Gan, Rachel Grana, and Olalekan A Ayo-Yusuf.

This special Issue was funded by the National Cancer Institute. Dr. Pérez-Stable’s time was supported in part by grant no. TW05935 from the Tobacco Research Network Program, Fogarty International Center, the National Cancer Institute, the National Institute of Drug Abuse, and the National Institutes of Health. Cecilia Populus-Eudave provided valuable administrative support.