The deletion mutation identified in the second intron region. The red vertical line represents the splice acceptor site.