Definition of Child
Section 4 of the Children Act, 2013 says that all persons up to age of 18 years shall be regarded as children for the purposes of this Act. According to Article 1of UNCRC “a child means every human being below the age of eighteen years unless under the law applicable to the child, majority is attained earlier”.

Background of the Children Act, 2013
The Child Bill 2013, passed on June 16, 2013 by the national parliament was published through a gazette notification on June 20. The new Act is harmonized with the United Nation Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC) and has referred to the CRC in the preamble and replaced the Child Act, 1974. The Children Act, 2013 is drafted by the ministry of Social Welfare and consists of 11 chapters and 100 sections. The Children Act, 2013, officially known as "Shishu Ain, 2013". By a subsequent Gazette notification dated 18 August, 2013 the Act was made effective from 21 August, 2013.

Rule of Law
One of the basic principles of the English constitution is the rule of law. This doctrine is also accepted in the constitution of Bangladesh. The rule of law is currently is one of the most discussed matters of developing countries. Developed countries and donor agencies all the time advise the developing countries for good governance and sustainable development. Actually good governance and sustainable development generally be governed by the proper application of rule of law. One of the major objects of making laws is to preserve law and order in society, a peaceful environment for the advancement of the people. In true and real sense there is lack in rule of law in Bangladesh today. Law in Bangladesh follows a course of discerning and discretionary application. Institution and procedures essential for ensuring rule of law are also not effective in the country.

Child Rights
All rights spelled out by the Universal Declaration on human rights. “Children's rights are the human rights of children with particular attention to the rights of special protection and care afforded to minors”. Bangladesh constitution also guaranteed some rights for children. Other definitions include the rights to care and nurturing (Ali, 2013; Islam, 2015). There are no definitions of other terms used to describe young people such as "adolescents", "teenagers", or "youth" in international law, but the children's rights movement is considered distinct from the youth rights movement. The field of children's rights extents the fields of law, politics, religion, and morality. Children rights take account of their right to association with both parents, human identity as well (Mohajan, 2014; Banks, 2007) as the basic needs for physical protection, food, health care, universal state paid education and criminal laws appropriate for the age and development of the child, equal protection of the child civil rights and freedom from discrimination on the basis of the child race, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, religion, disability, colour, ethnicity or other characteristics (Ashrafuzzaman, 2014; Pare, 2003). Children have two types of human rights under international human rights law (White, 2002; Blanchet, 2001). Firstly, they have the same fundamental general human rights as adults, though some human rights such as the right to marry are dormant until they are of age. Secondly, they have special human rights that are necessary to protect them during their minority (Mamun et al., 2008; Ehsan, 2001).

Child Labour in Sylhet Metropolitan Area
Section 34, Sub-Section 1 of the Bangladesh Labour Code, 2006 says that “no child can be employed to work in any trade or in any establishment”. Child Labour is a common phenomenon in all Upazila, District, Metropolitan Area and others areas in Bangladesh. Sylhet Metropolitan City is no exception. In Sylhet Metropolitan Area huge numbers of children are engaged as child labourers mostly in hazardous and exploitative conditions in the informal economy. Employers appoint children due to cheap labour and exploit them due to their being unskilled. By employing children on very low wages, employers try to maximize their profits. In many cases, parents request employers to employ their children. In Sylhet Metropolitan Area many child work in house, construction, garage, etc. Children are engaged with much hazardous work in Sylhet Metropolitan Area.

This data shows that after Chittagong Sylhet is on 2nd position in case of proportion of real child worker (years 10-14) among all of the Division.

Child Victimization in Sylhet Metropolitan Area
The world Health Organization refers to child victimization as child abuse and neglect which includes all forms of physical and emotional ill treatment, sexual abuse, neglect and exploitation that results in actual or potential harm to the child’s health, development or dignity (Ferdousi, 2014; Islam, 2012). Children may be victimized by family members, by friends, by other children and by strangers etc. It is very common in Sylhet Metropolitan Area. Children are used to begging in front of the mosque gate and other places the number of which is also increasing day by day. Street children are deprived from their rights such as right to food, right to shelter, right to education and other rights. Children suffer victimization because of broken family. Every broken family has many problems which affects directly to the children. “Addicted children are also victim. Addicted children frequently involve in various criminal activities and criminal association to manage drugs. Sometimes they commit fatal offenses when they are in addicted situation. Girl children are facing harassment by boys in school, college and other places. They face the situation of eve teasing. In Sylhet Metropolitan Area, many guardians of boys lives in abroad. So, boys enjoy very much freedom. As a result, they make eve teasing against girl children. Worker child is suffered physical and mental torture in the workplace. Sometimes worker children suffer sexual abuse when engaged in house hold service. In that area, senior groups often oppress juniors in various situation by bullying and pinching, such as in residential school system, which produces scope of child victimization. In that city children suffer physical and mental pain because of coaching system after end of school. One of the best example of child victimization occurred On July 8, 2015. Rajon was beaten to death by a group of brutes in Kumargaon Bus Stand area of Sylhet Sadar allegedly for trying to steal a rickshaw van.

Kidnapped Children in Sylhet
Section 2 of the Nari O Shishu Nirjaton Damun Ain, 2000 lays down a provision about the definition of kidnapping, “Kidnapping means compelling any person to go from one place to another by force or inducement or enticement or intimidation”. Kidnapping is an illegal act. Kidnapping may be done to demand for ransom in exchange for releasing the victim or for other illegal purposes. In Sylhet Division including Sylhet Metropolitan Area kidnapping children is one of the major problems. Sometimes news has been published by the newspaper about the incident of child kidnapping. The following data indicate the real phenomenon.

In the winter and rainy season kidnapping of children be increased. But data shows that the number of kidnapping children is increasing and sometimes decreasing frighteningly day by day in Sylhet.

Section 375 of Bangladesh Penal Code, 1860 provides that “a man is said to commit ‘rape’ who except in the case hereinafter excepted, has sexual intercourse with a woman under circumstances falling under any of the five following descriptions - firstly, against her will, secondly, without her consent, thirdly, with her consent, has been obtained by putting her in fear of death or of hurt, fourthly, with her consent, when the man knows that he is not her husband, and that her consent is given because she believes that he is another man to whom she is or believes herself to be lawfully married, fifthly, with or without her consent, when she is under fourteen years of age 7. Because of gender discrimination girls are often victim from her birth (Choudhury, 2011; Ferdousi, 2015). Girls may be raped by friends, teachers, cousins, strangers and sometimes family members. "Girls are at higher risk than boys for infrastructure, sexual abuse, educational and nutritional neglect, and forced prostitution. The raped girl has to undergo severe mental and social constraints. At night, girls are afraid to visit the markets and other places in that area. Because, they feel lack of security.

Establishment of Metropolitan Child Welfare Board

The Children Act, 2013 lays down the provisions relating to National Child Welfare Board and its functions. District Welfare Board and its functions and Upazila Child Welfare Board and its functions under section 7, 8 and 9 but in the Act no provision is mentioned about the Metropolitan Child Welfare Board and its functions. If Metropolitan Child Welfare Board were established it may discharge the following duties and functions - to visit the Child Development Centre or, as the case may be, the certified Institute or any other Institute for children, if any, and to inspect the jail and to supervise, coordinate, monitor and evaluate the activities undertaken by those Institute; to determine the method of necessary alternative care for the disadvantaged children and for children in contact with the law and, where applicable, send them for alternative care and to analyses the data and information of the child under such care; to discuss on the information provided by the Child Development Centres, certified Institutes or, in case of necessity jail authority and to take necessary measures or initiatives for the welfare of the children; and to take such other measures as may be necessary to discharge the aforesaid duties and functions. This Board needs to participate the local Government (City Corporation) representative as an advisor. If without establishing Metropolitan Child Welfare Board, establishment of National, District and Upazila Child Welfare Board by this Act will be discrimination. So, it is very important to establish Metropolitan Child Welfare Board in all the Metropolitan Area in Bangladesh including Sylhet Metropolitan Area.

Child development centre means an institution which is working for development of child where child gets care and support. Section 59 lays down that the Government shall establish and maintain required number of Child Development Centres, based on gender disaggregation for accommodation, correction, and development of the children ordered to be detained in the judicial proceedings and for the children under trial. In Sylhet Metropolitan area no child development centre is established. In Bangladesh, there are only 3 child development centres. Name of the child development centres in Bangladesh are mentioned below that 1) Child Development Centre (boy) Tongi, Gazipur; 2) Child Development Centre (Girl) Konabari, Gazipur; 3) Jessore Child Development Centre (Boy). When a child is in custody in conflict with law, for ensuring his/her accommodation, correction, development and maintenance it are very important to establish this child development centre in Sylhet Metropolitan Area. For the best protection of child interest and implementation of section 59 in that mentioned area it is necessary to establish this child development centre.

Findings of the study
1) That the Act lies down provisions relating National, District and Upazila Child Welfare Board. But that the Act does not lay down any provision relating to Metropolitan Child Welfare Board. For that reason, the mentioned Act makes discrimination among the Metropolitan Area, District and Upazila.
2) That the Act mentioned that advisor for District and Upazila Child Welfare Board will be nominated by the representative of the people. But that the Act is silent about the participation of the City Corporation representative. It makes discrimination among the local Government (City Corporation, District and Upazila).
3) That the Act does not lay down any provision for appointment of permanent Judge for the Children’s Court.
4) That the Act under section 32 mentioned that the Children’s Court shall complete trial within 360 (three hundred and sixty) days from the day of the child appearance before it. It may extend additional 60 (sixty) days on reasonable ground. But in practically it is not possible to complete trial within the mentioned period of this Act.
5) That the Act does not make any obligatory provision for all the concerned persons or institutions that they will provide child related information to the Legal Researchers which will be beneficial for the child.
6) That section 59 of the Act says about the Child Development Centre but where it shall be established it is not mentioned.
7) That the Act is named as the Children Act, 2013 but that the Act does not say anything specifically about the disabled children.
8) That the Act does not mention the consequence if the Child Affairs Police Officer at every month does not send all information of child related cases in prescribed form to the Probation Officer and to the Police Head Quarters through Superintendent of Police and, where applicable, to the District Legal Aid Committee.

Suggestions
a) The Child Affairs Police Officer sends all information of child related cases in prescribed form to the probation officer at every month regularly.
b) The Child Affairs Police Officer shall not perform any other duties of the Police Station accept child affairs.
c) It is important to amend this Act and include the provisions relating to establishment of the Metropolitan Child Welfare Board and this Board will ensure participation of the local Government (City Corporation) representative who acts as an advisor of this Board.
d) Section 59 of the Act need to be amended and the territory for establishment of the Child Development Centre should be fixed.
e) The Government shall appoint permanent Judges for the Metropolitan Children's Court, Sylhet.
f) This Act need to add provisions relating to disabled child.
g) Special training on the Children Act, 2013 and UNCRC must be provided to Probation officer and Child Affairs Police Officer.
h) If any researcher does any research on the Children Act, 2013 and on other topics relating to children the Probation Officer, Judge of the Children Court and specially the Child Affairs Police Officer need to cooperate him by providing essential information and data about that said topic.
i) The Judge of the Metropolitan Children’s Court should conclude trial within the said period in this Act.
All classes of people including concerned persons under the Act should be aware for protecting the best interest of the child for the better implementation of the Children Act, 2013 in Sylhet Metropolitan area.

CONCLUSION:
The Government passed the Children Act, 2013 for protecting the best interest of the child. The Children Act, 2013 has good application in Sylhet Metropolitan area but for better implementation of this Act in that mentioned area, the Government should take cognizance of the recommendations of this research. If the government taking to consideration the above mentioned recommendations it will be helpful to establish rule of law in that mentioned area and Bangladesh. It is time to take proper actions against which are obstacle for implementation of that Act in that area. The Government and other concerned institutions mentioned in that Act should organize public awareness for welfare of the child. Because, Children are the future generation of the nation.
