Supporting Information #2

Supplemental Figure 2. Upon performing a background subtraction of a pure epoxy spectra using confocal Raman spectroscopy and comparing it to the representative bone used for the scan. The percent difference between the two spectra was 8.77% with no significant difference in the FWHH of the of the peaks of interest.