Hi Renata!

- Legend of figure S4D refers to reference 97 in the text of the manuscript. Permission is not necessary since this is a mouse atlas that we used to determine the coordinates in the brain.

Also, the table at 12 font size does not fit well the portrait format of the page. Should I submit it anyways? It requires a wider format (landscape).

Finally, Novelty and Significance: Do you mean we add a new section or "what is relevant"?

Regards, Analia

MS TITLE: Epididymal fat-derived sympathoexcitatory signals exacerbate neurogenic hypertension in obese mice exposed to early life stress

Dear Dr. Loria:

Thanks for providing your updated word doc file. However there are some items to be addressed:

- The font size of the manuscript (abstract, text, perspectives, reference section, novelty and significance) and table has to be 12 pt.
- Make sure you add the heading: "Novelty and Significance" before "What is new"
- Remove the text: "Supplemental Materials Expanded Materials & Methods Online Figures I -IV Online Tables I-IV"
- Legend of figure S4D refers to reference 97 in the text of the manuscript. Please provide permission to reprint or include a statement that permission is not necessary (and why) by email.

The files are needed before your manuscript can enter the production cycle. When all listed items are complete please submit online at https://hype-submit.aha-journals.org/cgi-bin/main.plex?el=A2Hm4CvVo7C4BFEGj4BS1A9ftdLOfmP5tOgdQlUt11N5k0Q2.

Please contact our editorial office if you have questions about the items requested (hypertension@heart.org). We will not be able to submit your manuscript for publication until final materials are received in this editorial office. Also, the date your final materials are received will be published in Hypertension as the acceptance date for your manuscript.

Thanks again for submitting your interesting work to Hypertension. We look forward to receiving future manuscripts from you. With kind regards,

Sincerely,
Renata Gil
Assistant Managing Editor
