Should We Exclude Live Donor Liver Transplantation for Liver Transplant Recipients Requiring Mechanical Ventilation and Intensive Care Unit Care?: Erratum

In the article by Goldaracena et al, Should We Exclude Live Donor Liver Transplantation for Liver Transplant Recipients Requiring Mechanical Ventilation and Intensive Care Unit Care?, published September 22, 2015, the names of two authors appear incorrectly and there is in error in the title.

The title of the article should have read: Should We Exclude Live Donor Liver Transplantation for Liver Transplant Recipients Requiring Mechanical Ventilation and Intensive Care Unit?

Furthermore, the first and last names of two authors were reversed. Echeverri Juan should have appeared as Juan Echeverri and Kaths Moritz should have appeared as Moritz Kaths.

REFERENCE
Goldaracena N, Spetzler VN, Sapisochin G, et al. Should we exclude live donor liver transplantation for liver transplant recipients requiring mechanical ventilation and intensive care unit? Transplantation Direct. 2015;1:e30; doi: 10.1097/TXD.0000000000000543.