IV. CONCLUSION
Talent acquisition is a process, of acquiring and encouraging talents for the progress of the company. The company is acquiring the right candidates with prerequisite qualifications and capabilities but the company is using quite lengthy and complex process in acquiring the candidates, the company should try to make the process smooth and short. The company should acquire both the fresh and experienced talents for their growth. Talent acquisition is not confined only to filling vacant positions but also taking a long term strategic view for filling future positions as well. It should also implement the trending methods and technologies to acquire the talents. The company should increase its competencies in order to adopt the new technologies to get the top talents in the prevailing scenario. The company firstly should rely on the internal references for hiring the talents whereas the external references make to hire diverse talents.
