Retraction

Retracted: Results of Surgical and Nonsurgical Treatment of Aneurysms in a Developing Country

Stroke Research and Treatment

Received 17 January 2016; Accepted 17 January 2016

Copyright © 2016 Stroke Research and Treatment. This is an open access article distributed under the Creative Commons Attribution License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited.

The paper titled “Results of Surgical and Nonsurgical Treatment of Aneurysms in a Developing Country” [1] has been retracted as it was found to be substantially similar to a previously published article by the same authors. The first article, "Results of Surgical and Non-Surgical Treatment of Aneurysms in Iran," by Mohammad Reza Rezvani, Kavian Ghandehari, Fahimeh Ahmadi, and Azadeh Afzalnia, was published in ARYA Atheroscler, while the second paper, "Results of Surgical and Nonsurgical Treatment of Aneurysms in a Developing Country," was published in Stroke Research and Treatment.

References

[1] K. Ghandehari, F. Ahmadi, and A. Afzalnia, "Results of surgical and nonsurgical treatment of aneurysms in a developing country," Stroke Research and Treatment, vol. 2011, Article ID 560831, 4 pages, 2011.