Ablation of spinal cord estrogen receptor expressing interneurons reduces chemically induced modalities of pain and itch.