Author comment on "Annual hydrographic variability in Antarctic coastal waters infused with glacial inflow" by Maria Osińska et al., Earth Syst. Sci. Data Discuss., https://doi.org/10.5194/essd-2022-320-AC1, 2022

We would like to thank the Referee for this comment and support for the publication of our article. We are especially grateful for recognizing that results presented here, even though not without shortcomings, have a potential for being useful for different researchers of the Antarctic region, which is certainly one of our main goals in this project.
