INTRODUCTION
The conflict between Israel and Palestine has become an old war which has been occurring since 1948 (Margolick, 2008). Israel’s motive of the invasion is to seize Palestinian’s territory, Gaza which was well-known as Jerusalem. However, the explicit motive of their invasion is such religious conflict. Israel is well-known as Jewish country which means that they have certain motive toward Islam in Palestinian invasion. There is a long standing rivalry between Jewish people and Muslim people. Jewish people, Israel intended to seize Al Quds in Jerusalem, which was confessed as their holy place.

Donald Trump gave his remarks through his speech in Jerusalem on 23\textsuperscript{rd} May 2017. Through his speech, he showed his sympathy toward the conflict in Jerusalem. Jerusalem is a popular city between Israel and Palestine. Simon (2011) stated that Jerusalem is a holy place, a home of many beliefs or religion, especially Islam, Jews and Christ, and each of them claims that the place only belongs to them. As holy place, this place is believed as an important place on earth for the interaction between human and God. Current status of Jerusalem is both Israel and Palestine recognize the place as their capital city (Xinhuanet, 2017). However, Israel has compounded the problem by staying on East Jerusalem as that is not their territory. The International community does not recognize East Jerusalem as Israel’s capital and their settlement is illegal. The solution of its status can be solved through negotiations from both countries.

He expected that the three religions those are Muslims, Jews and Christians in Jerusalem must be able to actualize Trump’s dream on creating peace. As we know that Trump is such the most influential person in the world. His position as President of USA who was chosen in 2016 causing him becomes a powerful person. The president of USA is always viewed as number one person in the world. Therefore, his movement and policy always become the number one topic to concern in the worldwide. His speech then spread rapidly and became the hottest issue at that time.

This research investigates illocutionary act on Donald Trump’s speech at the Israel museum by using critical discourse analysis. The main purpose of this research is to find the illocutionary act and ideology in Donald Trump’s speech at the Israel museum. Every the use of language always has ideology. The Ideology of a speech can be understood from the background of the speaker and another contextual aspect. As what Van Dijk (1993) stated that critical discourse analysis (CDA) is an analysis investigating discourse, power, social, dominance and inequality expressed and the relationship. CDA has an important role to investigate the language and beyond language in a speech.

This research analyzed Donald Trump’s speech through Fairclough’s (1992) models of CDA. This model consists of text, discursive practice and social practice. Through those models, this research investigated the discourse and the social aspect to discover the ideology of Donald Trump on his speech at the Israel museum. In linguistic features, the analysis is to find illocutionary act and persuasive strategies. It is used to find the intended meaning of Trump on his speech at the Israel museum.

Illocutionary acts reflected in Trump’s speech at the Israel museum is the focus of linguistic features in this research. Illocutionary act is the second class of speech act. Speech act is an utterance showing what speaker means (illocutionary act) and resulting the effect (perlocutionary act) which possibly provokes hearer. However, this research focused on investigating illocutionary act in Trump’s speech. Therefore, perlocutionary act as the effect or hearer’s response is not included to be analyzed. Through illocutionary act, the intention of Trump said in his speech can be discovered whether representatives, directives, commissives, expressives and declaratives.

Mufiah and Rahman (2018) analyzed speech act on Donald Trump’s inaugural speech. The research focused on analyzing locutionary act, illocutionary acts and perlocutionary act. The result showed that representatives were reflected to express assertion, state the fact, give description and conclusion. Expressives were reflected to express joy, sorrow, pain and like. Directives were reflected to give command, orders and suggestion. Commissives were reflected to give promise and pledge. The result showed that Trump stated his promises by saying “will”. It shows that he convinced audiences that he will do something. Expressives were found when Trump showed his gratitude by thanking. The another result showed that he also expressed praising and showed his sympathy. And, declaratives were reflected to give declaration. Tutuarima, Nuraeningsih and Rusiana (2018) analyzed speech act used in London has fallen movie. The result showed that representatives were found while speaker claimed something. It was found while speaker judged or recognized something. Wulansari and Suhartini (2015) has analyzed directive speech act of Indonesian EFL teacher. The result showed that there are three types of directive speech act, those are giving request, command and opinion or advice. In giving command, the speaker used modal such as “will” and “must” that uses his authority to ask people to do something. Speaker used imperative sentence to request. It means speaker ask people to do something if they want. And speaker also used modal “must” to give suggestion. It showed that speaker offered an action by giving opinion or advice. Garda (2018) analyzed one of illocutionary acts, that is declarative act my lawyer, Mr. Jo. The result showed declarative was found when Mr. Jo declared a policy and a decision in a court. His statement has a power which can give a big implication.

In the previous research of CDA, Mahshid (2014) analyzed critical discourse analysis of political speech of four candidates of Rasht city council elections in 2013, with a view to Fairclough’s three models. The linguistics finding of the research focused on discursive structures, power relations and persuasive strategies. Hamood (2019) analyzed
Trump’s discourse while recognizing Jerusalem as Israel’s capital city by using Van Dijk’s CDA. The research focused on analyzing political discourse and thematic theory in CDA.

Linguistic features of those previous research focused on stylistic and persuasive strategies in speech. It means that previous research above has not analyzed illocutionary act yet. As a matter of fact, illocutionary act and language are inseparable. What speaker says in a speech certainly contains implicit meaning. As this research analyzed illocutionary act, in order to know the implicit meaning of what Trump said in his speech at the Israel museum. Therefore, through CDA, this research analyzed illocutionary act, persuasive strategies and the ideology. In analyzing the ideology, the alignment of Donald Trump was discovered.
