COVID-19: PROLONGED VIRAL SHEDDING IN AN HIV PATIENT WITH LITERATURE REVIEW OF RISK FACTORS FOR PROLONGED VIRAL SHEDDING AND ITS IMPLICATIONS FOR ISOLATION STRATEGIES

Muhammad Yousaf, Mansoor Hameed, HUSSAM ALSOUB, Mohamad Khatib, Wasim Jamal, and Mushtaq Ahmad

1Hamad Medical Corporation

November 5, 2020

Abstract

We present prolonged viral shedding in an immunocompromised HIV patient with a literature review of risk factors for prolonged viral shedding and its implications for isolation strategies. We explore the role of PCR-CT-value (cycle threshold) as an instrument for guiding isolation policies and the impact of HIV on Covid-19.

Hosted file

Covid-19 HIV Viral shedding.pdf available at https://authorea.com/users/373253/articles/490998-covid-19-prolonged-viral-shedding-in-an-hiv-patient-with-literature-review-of-risk-factors-for-prolonged-viral-shedding-and-its-implications-for-isolation-strategies
